

14th January 2011

Financial Spectrum Financial Planning Opens A New Office in Balmain, NSW (Sydney Inner West)

---

City boutique financial planning firm Financial Spectrum has opened a new office in Balmain East to provide people living and working in the local area with holistic financial advice.

“We are a local team and we’re passionate about helping people in our area to make the most of their money through smart wealth creation and wealth management strategies” said Brendan Tong, the General Manager.

Financial Spectrum is an independently owned business, enabling them to provide financial advice in all areas such as superannuation, preparation for a major life event (e.g. pregnancy, divorce and retirement), tax minimisation, investing (including property investment), debt reduction and more.

Finalists in the City of Sydney Business Awards for 2010, the team at Financial Spectrum are excited to expand their business to the Balmain peninsula. “Opening in Balmain is a great way for us to provide financial advice to people who really need it – families and aspirational people who can really benefit from professional financial advice aimed at helping them to achieve their financial potential both now and into the future” said Mr Tong.

The new office, located at 88 Darling St, Balmain East, opened on the 12th January. As a special offer to celebrate the move, Financial Spectrum is offering a Free Financial Health Check to Sydney Inner West residents for a limited time. Call 1300 886 018 or visit <http://www.financialspectrum.com.au> to book.